This map shows the City of Santa Monica's tree pruning schedule as part of its Urban Forest Program. The city is divided into three districts, which are color-coded on the map. Only one district is inspected each year, meaning the full city is on a 3-year inspection rotation. Pruning needs are assessed based on tree species and the level of street activity in the area. Only trees identified by the Urban Forest team as needing maintenance during inspection will be pruned. Pruning cycles are dependent on available resources and may change over time. Currently, the City is funded to support a pruning cycle of every 3 to 6 years.
